Abstract—This is a brief introduction to team members.

I. Team member

At the end of the first class, we completed the formation of a four person group. At the same time, according to recommended basic structure for a repository in the professor's paper, we build our own git repository. The following is the self introduction of the four members.

Zhenyuan Liu (Postgraduate, XDU) graduated from the UESTC with a major in electromagnetic field and wireless technology in 2018. Have three years of work experience on pcb layout and hardware testing. The current research direction is FPGA based deep neural network design and implementation.

Yicong Chen (Postgraduate, XDU) received the B.Sc. degree in Communication Engineering from the Ningbo University, Ningbo, in 2017. He is optimistic and positive, has working experience in the student union, has cultivated a good sense of teamwork, has participated in mathematical modeling competitions, and has a certain foundation of programming modeling. His main research direction is remote sensing image processing and analysis.

Shunli Tian (Postgraduate, XDU) comes from Yongcheng City, Henan Province. I am now studying computer Science and Technology in School of Artificial Intelligence, Xidian University. My current research direction is hyperspectral image processing.

Zhengxi Guo (Postgraduate, XDU) from Xi'an, Shaanxi, is studying computer science and technology in the School of Artificial Intelligence, Xidian University, and his research direction is sar image target detection.
